Gale ECCO, Print Editions. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 88 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.2in. The 18th century was a wealth of knowledge, exploration and rapidly growing technology and expanding record-keeping made possible by advances in the printing press. In its determination to preserve the century of revolution, Gale initiated a revolution of its own: digitization of epic proportions to preserve these invaluable works in the largest archive of its kind. Now for the first time these high-quality digital copies of original 18th century manuscripts are available in print, making them highly accessible to libraries, undergraduate students, and independent scholars. Western literary study flows out of eighteenth-century works by Alexander Pope, Daniel Defoe, Henry Fielding, Frances Burney, Denis Diderot, Johann Gottfried Herder, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, and others. Experience the birth of the modern novel, or compare the development of language using dictionaries and grammar discourses. The below data was compiled from various identification fields in the bibliographic record of this title. This data is provided as an additional tool in helping to insure edition identification: Huntington LibraryP002626Editor: William King. Titles vary slightly. Note above imprint: To be continued monthly, as they sell. Imprints lack dates; year of publication from dates of issues. First number dated according to Lady Day dating. With engraved frontispiece. The first two issues are divided into numbered sections; a table of contents for these is bound following the preface to the March-April issue. The third number, covering May-Sept. 1709, includes an account of an imaginary voyage to the island of Cajamai, translated into English from the Dutch. All three issues represent whimsical satires on the Philosophical Transactions, and on the proceedings of the Royal Society. London England : printed for Bernard Lintott, at the Cross-Keys, between the two...
