Reviews

This publication is fantastic. We have read through and I am certain that I will be planning to read yet again yet again down the road. You won't feel monotony at any time of your respective time (that's what catalogs are for concerning when you request me).

When a man is denied the right to live the life he believes in, he has no choice but to become an outlaw. Mary On The Run is 395,000-words three-volume YA fiction, it tells the story of a 20-year-old Chinese guy who is struggling to survive in the Chinese society, in hopes of finding love and freedom, and eventually becomes an outcast and goes to Afghanistan to join the U.S Army, yet the death of the girl who saved him from the riots of Urumqi drives him back to Beijing to assassinate the head of the Chinese government. Mary On The Run is written in a subjective style from the point of view of its antagonist Mary, following his exact thought processes. The story is presented in a nonlinear narrative, as it jumps from various days within the 10-years span of Mary's life, each flashback is triggered by the previous event. It all starts at the moment when Mary is about to assassinate the Chinese Premier at the Great Hall of the People (Beijing) in June 6, 2011. Going to the Afghanistan look for the U.S Army is not a whim. As one of the outcasts of China, that seems to be the only choice left for Mary to choose--die of a noble cause, or survive to be a great fighter. Mary has never read any book of Hemingway, nor does he have any understanding of the world outside of a little town. He simply wants to be a stronger man, like one of the heroes of those American movies. His careless thoughts and actions make him a witness of the riots of Urumqi and...
