Shes going to find them both. The Red Dragon Project is the ultimate weapon -- five women who can transform themselves into mighty dragons. Not only can they soar over armies and use their fiery breath to devastate opposing forces, they can sneak behind enemy lines before metamorphosing and catch enemies unaware. Now Urland has a scale-tipping advantage over rival Phrygia and even the means to fully stabilize allied-nation Alfars shaky coalition government. But on its first test mission, the Red Dragon Project is sabotaged. Three Dragons are killed, one is severely injured, and, worst, one goes missing. Only Wolf Dasher of Her Majestys Shadow Service knows who is really behind the attack: The Sons of Frey, a sinister terrorist organization dedicated to overthrowing Alfars government in the name of religious purity. Wolfs out of favor, though. A blown mission and his love affair with Alfars Captain of the Elite Guard, May Honeyflower, have irked the conservative faction of the coalition government and made him a liability to his own people. Currently serving a month-long suspension, hes in no position to pursue his suspicions. Theres only one solution: a dangerous, unofficial mission that carries Wolf across the border into neighboring Jifan, a nation of elves that hates humans like Wolf and seeks to conquer Alfar, uniting both countries under a strict fundamentalist theocracy. Hell have to go alone, and, if anything goes wrong, no one will come to help. May isnt about to abandon her love, though. When Wolf disappears and is presumed dead, she resolves to go after him, leaving her post and recruiting imprisoned radicals to help her....
