Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Versions and Revisions of the Bible: An Address Delivered Before the Salem County Bible Society The original language of the Old Testament is the Hebrew, and that of the New Testament, the Greek; but nearly three hundred years before Christ the Septuagint translation - so called - of the Old Testament into Greek was made by learned Jews, in Alexandria, in Egypt. The authority of this version was so great that it was sometimes claimed that its authors were inspired. Many of the citations from the Old Testament in the New are taken directly from the Septuagint version, and Christianity spread so rapidly among the Gentiles, from the East, that Greek became the sacred language of Christendom. In the second century of the Christian era other Greek translations were made, of which one, by Aquila, a Jew, which was a closely literal translation, and those made by Symmachus and Theodotion were the most important. These translations were preserved by Origen, in his Hexapla, which was a copy of the Bible in six columns, containing, respectively, the Hebrew text, the same text in Greek letters, the translations of Aquila, Symmachus and Theodotion, and the text of the Septuagint, with corrections and emendations of his own. Latin, however, and not Greek, was the language of the Roman Empire, and before the time of Tertullian, in the second century, translations into that tongue were made, at different places in North Africa. There was no satisfactory Latin Bible, however, and in the latter part of the fourth century, at the instance of Damasus, Bishop of Rome, Jerome undertook a revision of the Latin text.
